A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

AMALGAMATED TO HEAR HAM'S REPLYCar Men Expected to Act on Refusal to Ignore
Rival Union.

Employees of the Washington Railway and Electric Company who are members of Local No. 875, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, will meet tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. in Room 201, the McGill building.

At this meeting a committee of the Amalgamated, which called on William F. Ham, president of the W. R. E. C., will make its report. President Ham flatly refused to accede to the union's demand that all negotiations with the Brotherhood of Street and Electric Railway Employees be discontinued until October 1.

The 800 members who have contended that the company showed partiality in dealing with the rival association, will be called upon to take some action. A drastic step may be taken by the Amalgamated men, who feel that President Ham has violated the War Labor Board's ruling.

Amalgamated members claim the brotherhood has influenced the company to change conditions and they say they do not wish to work under conditions imposed by another employer's association. They also claim the brotherhood is a "tool" unit of the railway company.
